

C DIKG Humberside Theatre Company programme: c.1978
an adult version of The Three Musketeers

Accession number: 21/11

Historical Background: The Humberside Theatre Company had been originally founded as the Hull Arts Centre in 1969. It was based in the former St Stephens Church Hall on Spring Street. It later changed its name again, to the Spring Street Theatre. Although born in Jarrow, Alan Plater (1935-2020), a successful scriptwriter and playwright, lived in Hull for many years. Teddy Kiendl, who was born in the United States and came to Britain in his mid-20s, is another successful writer and director.

Custodial history: Deposited by Kevin Jennings in July 2021

Extent: 1 item

Related material: A history of the Hull Arts Centre can be found in 'The Swelling Scene; the development of Amateur Theatre in Hull from 1900' compiled by Pamela Dellar and Gillian Holtby, edited by Barbara Robinson, at reference L.792.06. This is introduced by Alan Plater, whose records are held by the University of Hull Archives at reference U DPR.

Access conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader

C DIKG/1	Programme for a production of an Adult Version of The Three Musketeers	c.1978
	A bawdy swashbuckling comedy, produced by the Humberside Theatre Company. Written by Andy Smith, additional material by Alan Plater, directed by Teddy Kiendl.
	1 item	