

C TCCF	Joint Committee of the Hull City Council and its Officials	1929
---------------	---	-------------

Historical Background: The Joint Committee of the City Council and its Officials was established to consider matters affecting the interests of the council and its staff and to make appropriate recommendations. This would cover aspects such as hours of work, conditions of service, tenure of office, salary and remuneration. The committee could offer its opinion on issues, collect statistics and information when required to enable them to consider matters effectively. The first printed minutes appear for the joint committee in 1922 and cease in 1931, although it was not finally abolished until 1946 when it's functions became part of the Establishment Committee.
