City Engineer's Department, Civil Defence records

1935-1971

Historical Background: Created by the City Engineer's Department of the City and County of Kingston upon Hull during the Second World War and up to 1971. In 1941, Air Raid Precautions became officially known as Civil Defence though both terms were used throughout the war.

Custodial history: The majority of this collection was inherited by Hull City Archives when it was created in 1967. The records were transferred from the Guildhall basement.

Description: These records include volunteer services, the provision and fitting out of shelters and depots, and the protection of Corporation property.

The item titles have been taken from the front of each of file. The files have been kept in their original order and are not, therefore, in strict chronological order.

Where there is a run of district files on a particular subject, please note that the complete run does not always exist.

Extent: 133 boxes

Related material: Hull History Centre has a considerable number of records relating to the Second World War. Please refer to the source guide for more information.

Access Conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader, except for those items containing information on named individuals which may be restricted in accordance with the Data Protection Act. To consult these records please see the 'Closure Guidelines' available on our website.
