

C DI 6 Diary of E.A. Foster titled 'An Irishman resides in Yorkshire after the Roman period' 1939-1945

Accession number: 25/16

Biographical Background: E.A. Foster was a ship repairer who lived on the outskirts of Hull with his wife, three sons and two daughters. The diary recalls the time spent living in Hull between 1939-1945 describing their life at the time.

Custodial history: Deposited by Iain Foster in February 2025, grandson of E.A. Foster.

Description: Original diary and transcript recalling his and that of his family's time living in Hull during the Second World War.

Extent: 2 items

Access conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader

C DI 6/1	Diary of E.A. Foster titled 'An Irishman resides in Yorkshire after the Roman period'. Original diary recalling his and that of his family's time living in Hull during the Second World War 1 item	1939-1945
C DI 6/2	Diary of E.A. Foster titled 'An Irishman resides in Yorkshire after the Roman period'. Transcript of diary recalling his and that of his family's time living in Hull during the Second World War. Please note there are a small number of errors owing to the diary being difficult to read in places. 1 item	1939-1945