

C DIJN

Diary of the Barque 'Ann Millicent'

1887-c.2017

Accession number: 17/15

Historical Background: Harold Walter Hocken (1866-1933) was born in Hull and after an apprenticeship at Priestmans, he went to sea for 12 years, where he would serve as an engineer on the 'Ann Millicent'. Hocken would later be admitted to the Institution of Mechanical Engineers and became a manager at the council's Madeley Street Baths.

Custodial history: Deposited by Mrs Eileen Jones in April 2017

Description: Diary has weather details, cargo, incidents and family news as well as listing any letters received. Transcription also included, along with a printout of his application to join the Institution of Mechanical Engineers.

Extent: 1 volume and 1 item

Access conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader

C DIJN/1	Diary of the Barque 'Ann Millicent' compiled by Harold Hocking Diary includes weather details, cargo, incidents and family news as well as listing an letters received 1 item	Jan 1887- Feb 1888
C DIJN/2	Transcription of the diary of the Barque 'Ann Millicent' For January 1887-February 1888. Includes a printout of the application of Harold Hocken to join the Institution of Mechanical Engineers in 1914. 1 item	c.2017