

C DISS Papers of Sergeant Frederick Saul R.A. c.1939-1944

Accession Number: 13/56

Biographical Background: Sergeant Frederick Saul R.A. was stationed in Hull during WWII with the H. Sub. Battery 101 E.R.H.G. Rockett A.A. and Officers and NCO's 119 A.A. 2, an anti-aircraft unit defending the docks. Saul was a sergeant in the Royal Artillery and had been in the Territorial Army before the outbreak of the war. Apart from a few weeks stationed at Dover Castle, Saul spent most of the war in Hull.

Custodial History: Deposited by Sergeant Frederick Saul's son 2 Apr 2013

Description: Collection contains papers of Sergeant Frederick Saul R.A. who was stationed in Hull during WWII. Contains a photograph of H. Sub. Battery 101 stationed in Hull.

Extent: 1 item

Access Conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader

Copyright: Duncan of Hull, Photographic Studio

C DISS/1	Photograph of H. Sub. Battery 101 Mounted black and white group photograph of H. Sub. Battery 101 E.R.H.G. Rockett A.A. and Officers and NCO's 119 A.A. 2. The unit was an anti-aircraft unit stationed in Hull to defend the docks from enemy bombing and aircrafts. Names of officers and NCOs are given on the mount underneath the photograph. 1 item	c.1939-1944
----------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------