

C JA

Records of the Court of Admiralty

1565-1675

Historical Background: The Court of Admiralty was established to deal primarily with issues of piracy or 'spoil' (i.e. captured goods) but it later went on to cover aspects such as collision damage and salvage.

Description: Proceedings of the court

Extent: 1 item

Related material: There are additional records relating to the Court of Admiralty at C BRI/31, 41 and 44 and C DFM/113. The main series of records can be found at The National Archives at Kew under the reference HCA.

Access conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader

C JA/1

Portion of the proceedings of the Court of Admiralty at Hull
Includes a list of fees, rules of procedure and other related papers. This document was originally listed as M58 in Stanewell's calendar.
1 item

1565-1675