

C PUH            Records of the Board of the Kingston upon Hull    1692-1937    Incorporation for the Poor

Historical Background: The first mention of a workhouse in Hull, which was run by the Corporation, can be found in 1594. This arrangement would continue on and off for a number of years despite the terms of the 1601 Poor Law Act, which had passed the responsibility for poor relief onto parishes. For Hull, these were the parishes of Trinity and St. Mary's. Hull would later combine these 2 parishes in terms of poor relief, under a local act of 1698 (9 & 10 Will. 111, c.47), and from 1699 the new Incorporation for the Poor took over the existing workhouse. From 1834 the administration of the Poor Law changed and parishes were grouped together into larger 'unions' and were managed by boards of guardians elected by ratepayers. This new Hull Board would continue as the Incorporation for the Poor and would eventually merge with the Corporation of Hull in 1930 under the Local Government Act of 1929 (19 & 20 Geo.V, c.17).

The first workhouse building, known as Charity Hall, was originally on Whitefriargate. There it remained, much altered and added to until 1852, when a new building was opened on Anlaby Road. With the advent of the National Health Service, it was renamed the Western General Hospital, before becoming the site of the re-located Hull Royal Infirmary.

Custodial history: Some of these items were previously catalogued by Leonard Stanwell in the 'Calendar of documents relating to Hull'.

Related material: A Poor Rate Collectors Receipt Book is at reference C DMX/103, with Year books at L.339.1. There are a number of files concerning the administration of the poor law undertaken by Magistrates out of Sessions. These include records relating to Settlement issues (that is the uncertified residence by individuals of which the overseer of the poor had concerns regarding) and can be found at C CQE. Books and articles relating to the Poor Law in Hull include 'The care of the poor in Kingston-Upon-Hull in the Nineteenth Century' by Anne E Reynolds (at reference L.339.1) and 'The Kingston upon Hull Incorporation for the Poor, 1906-1914' an essay by H. G. Mulich (at reference C SRL/R/2). Former City Archivist, Geoff Oxley, wrote a general book on the subject, 'Poor Relief in England and Wales, 1601-1834'.

Access conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader, except for C PUH/121-132 which are held by the City Council's Information Governance team. Please see staff regarding access to these records.
