

C THW      Records relating to the Ministry of Home Security training of Civil Defence Staff      1943-1944

Historical Background: The Ministry of Home Security were charged with the training of Civil Defence staff during the Second World War. The Civil Defence Staff College was located at Stoke D'Abernon, a village in the borough of Elmbridge in Surrey, England.

Custodial history: These records were transferred to the City Archives from Kingston upon Hull's Health Department in the early 1970's

Description: Photographs

Extent: 2 items

Access conditions: Access will be granted to any accredited reader

- |         |  |               |
|---------|--|---------------|
| C THW/1 | Photograph of attendees at a course at the Ministry of Home Security, Civil Defence Staff College, Stoke D'AbernonPhotograph of attendees of course no. 39 (Medical Officers of Health) at the Civil Defence Staff College at Stoke D'Abernon. The Medical Officer of Health for Hull, Dr. N.Gebbie is on the third row, third from left1 item | 2-8 May 1943  |
| C THW/2 | Photograph of attendees at a course at the Ministry of Home Security, Civil Defence Staff College, Stoke D'AbernonPhotograph of attendees of course no. 63 (Army Officers) at the Civil Defence Staff College at Stoke D'Abernon. The Medical Officer of Health for Hull, Dr. N.Gebbie is on back row, fourth from right.1 item                | 9-14 Jan 1944 |