c.1990s

Biographical background: Born in 1927, John Renton Heathcote, better known as Renton Heathcote, was a local historian and later an East Riding parish councillor. He wrote books on local history, most notably Anlaby: The History of an East Yorkshire Village, 897-1999, Anlaby and the siege of Hull 1642: a short history to commemorate the 350th anniversary of the event and Earle's Cement: a short history of G & T Earle Ltd., 1809-1967.

Purchased by Hull City Council in 2007 following his death in May 2006, aged 78, this series of postcard views of Hull, mainly from the Edwardian era, was kept within Hull Local Studies Library prior to its relocation to the Hull History Centre in 2010. This series of postcards formed a part of the private collection of Renton Heathcote which was auctioned off between May and September 2007.

These postcard images show Hull and its landmarks, mainly prior to the First World War, though other views are later, dating from the 1920s and 1930s. They include Queen Victoria Square, Corporation Pier, King Edward Street together with other lesser-known views across the city. The collection also includes the aftermath of the Russian Outrage of 1904, when Russians opened fire on a fleet of Hull trawlers after mistaking them for Japanese ships. Altogether, the collection consists of 491 postcard views of Hull.

The folder containing thumbnail views is available to view in the library and search room at the History Centre.

Brief biographical details along with obituary can be found the East Yorkshire Local History Society Newsletter, winter/spring 2008, no.18, pp.6-8 (Ref L.9.5). Please ask staff for more details.

Custodial history: Purchased after the death of John Renton Heathcote by Hull City Council in 2007 and kept at Hull Local Studies Library prior to its relocation to the Hull History Centre in 2010.
