

U DNT Records of the Nunburnholme Trust 1874-2004

Historical background:

The West Hull Liberal Trust was founded in 1909 with the first headquarters in Jamerson Chambers, Jamerson Street, Hull. On 31st March 1941 the premises of the Trust (the Boulevard property) was damaged by enemy action. The Trust was set up with the intention of being a 'political trust' but later changed to a 'charitable trust'. It was renamed the Nunburnholme Trust after their founder (Charles Henry Baron Nunburnholme) who stated he wished to set up such a trust in his will. The Boulevard property belonging to the West Hull Liberal Trust was rented out to be used as a Police Boys' Club in 1943.

U DNT/1	Minutes 5 volumes	1909-2004
U DNT/1/1	First Minute Book from the West Hull Liberal Trust There is a list of Trustees on the first two pages of the book. The foundation of the Trust is detailed in this book, with details about the handing over the premises to the Trust. Most of the minutes in this book are a summary of money coming into the Trust and money leaving the Trust. This money is usually in the form of grants or donations to other groups or organisations. Some letters requesting money are also included in this book alongside the minutes of their discussion. Some minutes are a summary of what to do with property that belongs to the Trust, which was usually let out. Some minutes from the meetings deal with legal matters such as insurance policies. 1 volume	Mar 1909- 23 Jan 1934
